No way for columnist to know what kind of father Bill Clinton is

I would like to comment on the column written by Karen Meier. It must be nice to be the perfect parent of perfect children.

There's no way under the sun for Ms. Meier to know about what kind of father Bill Clinton is. From all appearances, his daughter is a well-adjusted, mannerly, intelligent woman. Frankly, I am sick and tired of these holier-than-thou know-it-alls.

Am I so insulated that I don't notice what's going on in my community?

Killers, rogue social workers, newborn drownings, and ghosts fill your pages. What happened to my hometown newspaper filled with good but sometimes silly fluff? You've brightened my day. Am I so insulated that I didn't notice what was going on in my own community? God help us all.

Self-loathing elite national media is biased against Mark McGwire

Why does the great Mark McGwire bring out the worst in self-hating whites like Cokie Roberts and Sam Donaldson, who on their Sunday morning news show rooted for Sammy Sosa to win the home run championship because he is a Latino from the Dominican Republic?

"The most common name in baseball is Martinez," said Roberts. "Go Sosa," said Donaldson.

What's wrong with rooting for Mark McGwire? He's the greatest.

Caller rants against John Engler's tax policies and treatment of seniors

I'm calling in response to an ad for John Engler's re-election for governor. What I want to tell you is that I think that Engler probably has more experience for a lot of things: cheating and stealing from the elderly and the taxpayers of Michigan. He's robbing the taxpayers of everything they've got. And the mental patients, school children. He hasn't the experience to run anything, not even dogcatcher. . . . Anybody that votes for him ought to be run out of Michigan with him.

Open house slated Sunday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

An annual open house featuring a live demonstration of the "Jaws of Life" equipment will be conducted from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday at Romulus Fire Headquarters (Station 4) at 28777 Eureka road.

Fire Chief David Allison said the actual "jaws" demonstration will take place at 1 p.m. "Jaws of Life" are used by fire officials to extricate trapped motorists and passengers from smashed autos and trucks.

Romulus families are urged to attend the open house program that will also include a tour of the fire station, a special visit by "Fire Pup" (the department's mascot) and a chance to meet veteran fire fighters.

The open house will kick off the city fire department's Fire Prevention Week, Allison said.

In addition it was announced Monday night that work is being completed on the city's Fire Station Two at 7221 Middlebelt road.

Two separate additions will add to the current fire facility, a large room at the rear for meetings and training sessions and a side addition to house a soon to be ordered 100-foot platform fire truck.

In addition, Mayor William Oakley revealed that voters in Precincts 9 and 15 will soon be casting their ballots at the fire house, instead of the nearby Quality Inn hotel.

Oakley stated Monday night there was a slight possibility that voters could possibly use the fire house for November voting, but City Clerk Linda Choate revealed election laws prohibit that swift a change.

Choate said state laws require at least a 60 day change over time to acquaint voters with the precinct location change and since the election is early in November, her office would not legally have time to make that notification in the required time period.

Web page creator is honored by city council

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Young Romulus computer specialist Ryan Block - only a sophomore at Romulus High School - has been honored by Mayor William Oakley and the city council members for his intense effort in creating the city's first web page.

Block, who enjoys sports and computers, revealed he has created his own personal web pages in the past and was encouraged over a year ago by former School Board Trustee Sandra Langley to try his hand at creating a web page for the city.

City Community Development Director Richard Marsh further motivated young Block's efforts and recently the Romulus Web Page was completed and placed on line.

To find it on the web call up: <http://www.welcome.to/Romulus>. According to Block more than 750 such call ups have already occurred on the page site.

Block said that to date photos and stories on city officials and businesses have been highlighted on the local web page.

Recently information on the city's second annual Pumpkin Festival also was added for a short period of time. Changes can be made as often as needed, he said. Usually about once every two or three weeks is the current trend.

Block said both his father, Tom Block, and his step-father, Tom Greca, have helped purchase family computer equipment that aided his skills in creating such web pages.

He enjoyed making his own personal pages containing items about Michigan sports, ranging from the Detroit Tigers, Detroit Lions to college sports such as the University of Michigan and Michigan State.

But aiding the creation of the Romulus page filled him with much greater pride.

Aztec's biggest challenge today is to find qualified employees.

- Francis Lopez

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A critical worker shortage has hit Aztec Manufacturing Corp., one of the fastest growing Romulus industries, the Romulus City Council was told Monday night during a tax abatement request hearing.

While the statewide worker crisis has been expressed by other Michigan firms in recent months/years, this was one of the rare times the shortage was expressed so bluntly with city officials.

Francis (Frank) Lopez, president of the Romulus based company, coupled his firm's request for a four-year tax abatement on $4.5 million in personal property (new technology) with an offer to help revive a school to work program in the Romulus School District.

Lopez' abatement request was accompanied by supportive letters from several veteran school district leaders - Ed Clark, currently Middle School principal, and Phyllis Adkins, Cory Elementary School principal (recent recipient of the nationally renowned Milkin Family Foundation Award).

Lopez added a letter of his own to Mayor William Oakley urging the rekindling of the Romulus Community Schools Partnership for Education, formerly headed by Clark - prior to his being named assistant principal and then principal of the Romulus Middle School.

Lopez declared bluntly "Aztec's biggest challenge today is to find qualified employees."

Clark, speaking at the abatement hearing, praised Lopez saying he was one of the first business operators he talked to a decade ago while forming the then successful partnership effort between local schools and local businesses.

The school to work efforts led to many local business leaders coming to Romulus High School to speak to students, as well as providing the same students with co-op and summer job opportunities.

The efforts also kept Romulus teachers abreast of changes in work force needs locally and nationally, while other schools across the U.S. were training students in obsolete job programs.

While Lopez said in his brief that tax help was needed to purchase the expensive new computerized machinery, he augmented his request by saying Aztec needed fund flexibility to advance their employees' advanced training options.

He said Aztec planned to spend nearly a quarter of a million dollars on worker training, so that the firm can continue to grow in the highly competitive auto field.

Aztec is purchasing new equipment to "produce axles for Dana Corp. and bracketry for Ford Motor Co. and Delphi."

The new equipment will lead to the hiring of 23 new employees, Lopez said, and admitted about 20 already had been hired.

Most of the expensive training costs will be linked to the first year of using the newly purchased technology, he said, but the training process will continue on an on-going basis.

The council unanimously approved the four year abatement request.

Aztec began in Ecorse and moved to Romulus in the late 1980's with a work force of 28 workers. Today Aztec employs more than 120 staff members and that number is expected to increase in coming months/years, Lopez said.

Aztec's abatement packet supplied to the City Council members also contained a supportive letter from Richard Marsh, the city's community development director, who declared "Lopez has demonstrated through his track record of being a doer. I believe he has the vision, resources and drive to successfully reactivate the Romulus Educational Partnership Advisory Council."

Westland limo driver spurs legislation

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Former Westland limousine driver Richard Gnida's accident spurred Michigan legislators to pass a new law.

With a House vote of 104 - 0 and a Senate vote of 35-0, Rep. John Freeman's (D-Madison Heights) 'Red Wings' House Bill 5122, was approved overwhelmingly and is now being sent to Governor Engler for his signature.

The bill allows Prosecutors to charge drivers who cause an accident that severely injures or kills an individual while driving on a suspended or revoked license with a felony and to send them to prison for 5 to 15 years.

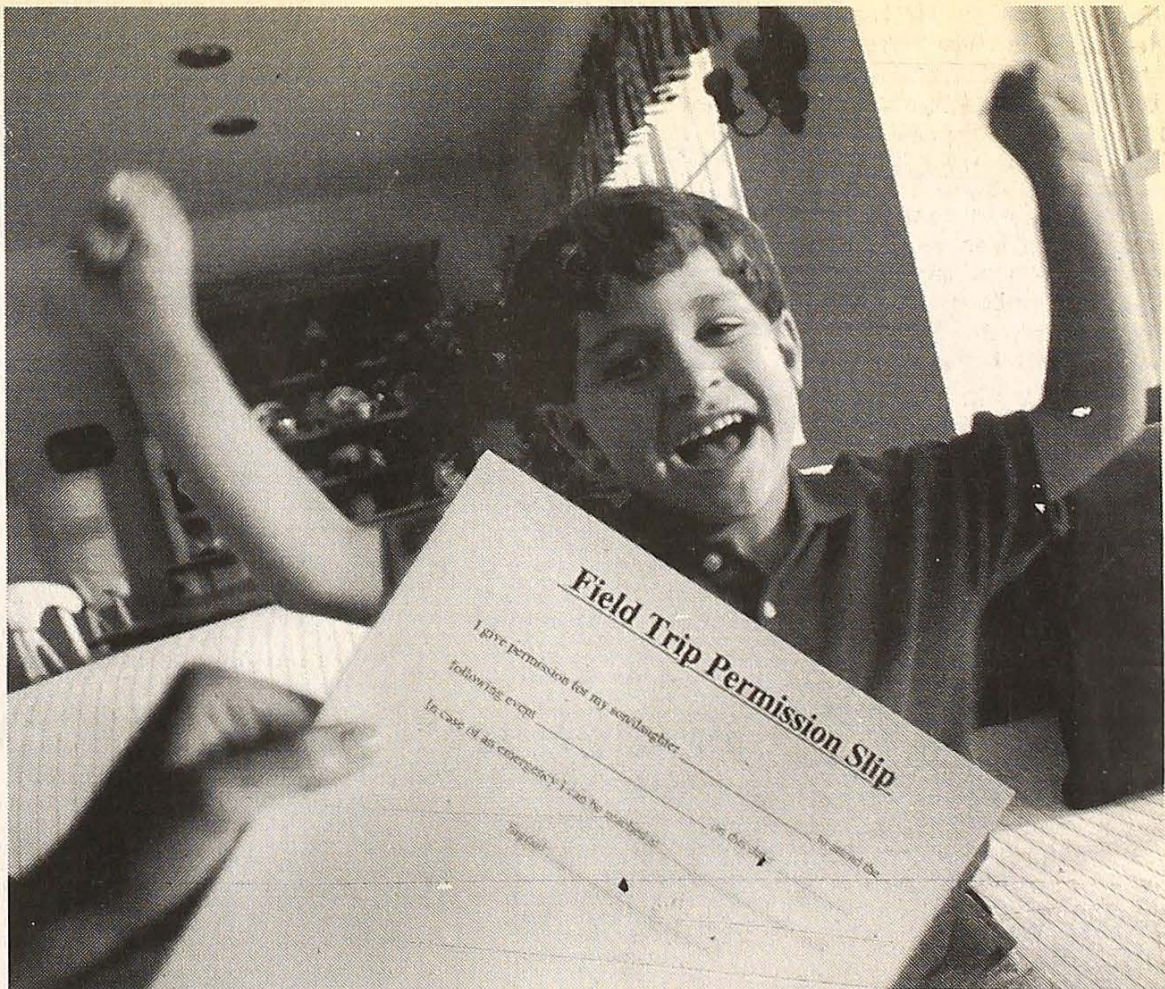

State Representatives John Freeman introduced House Bills 5122 in response to accidents like the tragic one in June of 1997 involving Detroit Red Wings trainer Sergei Mnatsakanov and players Slava Fetisov and Vladimir Konstantinov.

Oakland County Prosecutor could only charge Gnida, the limousine driver whose license was suspended and who caused the accident that tragically injured Vladimir Konstantinov and Sergei Mnatsakanov, with a misdemeanor. "House Bill 5122 eliminates the loophole in the law, that only allows a Prosecutor to charge a misdemeanor in those situations," stated Rep. Freeman.

House Bill 5122 would change the crime from a misdemeanor to a felony if a driver kills or seriously injures someone while driving on a suspended license. The penalties increase to a 15 year sentence for unlicensed drivers who cause death and a 5 year prison term when a serious injury occurs.

If you do drive on a suspended license and cause injury or death you will go to prison for a long time," said Freeman.

You're thinking...

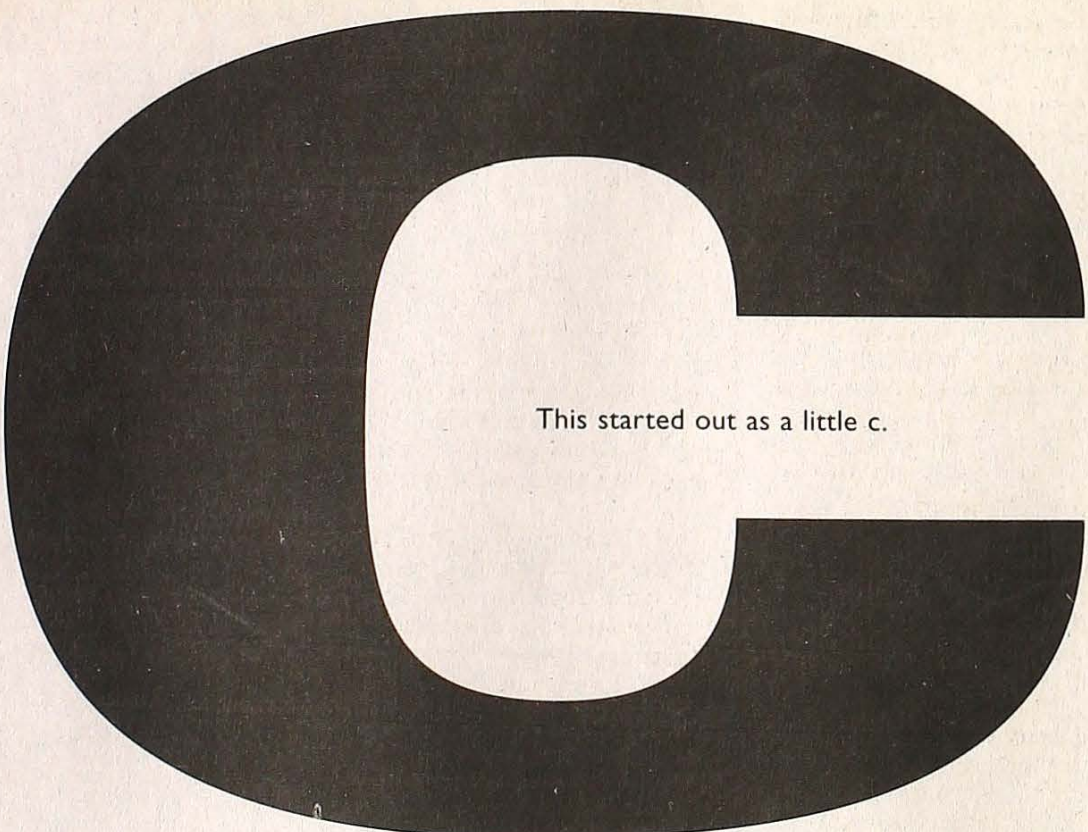

- a) Why is he so happy? I never liked asking for permission.
- b) I still don't.
- c) Is there a healthcare company out there that'll let me see a specialist —without asking for permission?

At HAP, we've partnered with Henry Ford Medical Centers to create a breakthrough new program called SelfDirect. SelfDirect gives people the freedom to refer themselves to most specialists. So, when you need to see a specialist, you can. It's as simple as that. SelfDirect is an idea that's the first of its kind in Michigan. And now, it's available to HMO members who use Henry Ford Medical Centers.

Life's little surprises

By Karen Meier
MCN Special Writer

Life surprised me last Friday. Stuff happened on that day that I just didn't expect. But then, who would?

It was just last Friday when I was swept up into one of those "missions." (The kind of mission that when you look around and see what you're doing, you say, "What the heck is THIS? How did I wind up HERE?") My mission that Friday afternoon was to sell chances at winning hundreds (some even estimated thousands) of dollars worth of beanie babies. Beanie babies of all things! Me, of all people. I thought the craze was quite crazy when it first arrived on the horizon back some time ago. But you never know. Life manages to take such funny twists and unexpected turns.

You see, the UpSide of Downs, a non-profit, charitable organization benefiting Down syndrome research and outreach, is an organization national and international in scope, yet very local in creation. It was my husband Ron bank lobby which sits on solid ground - or at least I thought it sat on solid ground - 'til the EARTHQUAKE hit.

There I was (of all people) selling beanie baby raffle tickets (of all things) in a bank lobby (of all places) when an earthquake hits. Of all things!

The earth began shaking, my chair wobbled a bit underneath me, and I turned my head to see out the window behind me - to see the enormous truck rumble by, but there was none. It was a rare tremor and it had momentarily jumbled a little corner of the world.

I noticed it - I definitely noticed it. And I also noticed other world -- jumbly, rare things that afternoon. Like the people, the bank customers, who on that Friday payday approached my red table-clothed cardtable to plump down a couple dollars for a CHANCE, only a CHANCE, at some beanie babies. They were, by and large, MEN. That's right, you read it right, MEN. They dug into their pockets most often, and not only that, they dug the deepest. To buy a chance at winning beanie babies!

Seeing that surprised me - it jumbled my world, but not in a bad way, more of a benign, jarring way - like a Michigan earthquake. There were men in crisp suits, men in gritty, icky work clothes, men in black, grandpa men with grandkids in tow, young men, a very hard working man with a long beard and longshoreman look about him.

Some of these "tough customers," these growly men, had stories they had to share with me, poignant, wonderful stories; others had stories in their eyes, but just couldn't bring words to them, some were completely inscrutable, I couldn't have guessed anything about them. Stereotypes got jumbled, but in a nice way.

One guy, towards the last part of the day, said to me as he plopped his $2 down and wrote his name, address, and phone number on his ticket, "Probably nothing in it for me, but it sure can help someone else. And that makes ME feel good." And with that, he returned my pen, picked up his half of the ticket and strode out the door. I quietly proclaimed him the "winner," not an official winner or anything, but a winner in matters of the heart. I called out a "thank you" to him. He waved and replied, "My pleasure."

Just a note: Sunday, October 4 is 1998 Down syndrome Buddy Walk day across the nation. In our area, the one-mile walk will take place outside at the Westland Parks and Recreation Center, 36651 Ford Road, Westland. Clowns, face painting, juice, doughnuts, and the great Beanie Baby Raffle drawing will all be part of the fun! (Beanie Baby raffle tickets will be available for purchase right up to drawing time.) Contributions are welcome and they are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. (Rain date - October 10.)

Car donated to ex-marine

Veteran's Haven gave away their 53rd vehicle to a deserving veteran, a United States Marine that was wounded in a forgotten battle called Grenada. Westland resident William Kiesznowski receives a service connected disability pension and has plans of furthering his education.

Veteran's Haven organization was born in the spring of 1994 and during course of the past two years it has helped many honorably discharged vets with transportation. It helps them to secure good paying jobs, advance their education, and receive medical care or counseling from the VA System.

"Our group has provided this type of transportation to Veterans from World War II, Korea, Vietnam and Dessert Storm," said Vince Berna, president. "We work in conjunction with various governmental agencies such as the VAMC in Detroit and Ann Arbor; Vet Centers that provides counseling to Combat Veterans in Detroit, Lincoln Park, Lansing and Grand Rapids; and the Vet Reps from the various MESC offices in the Metro area. Most of the clients that receive vehicles from us are referrals from the counselors, psychiatrists and psychologists that work within the VA system."

"We have given away cars, trucks and vans to help America's Finest. We are the only organization, Veteran or otherwise, that has given away this many vehicles since we started this program. Most of the other car donation programs sell or scrap vehicles that are donated to their cause. In many cases most of the funds that are accumulated are eaten up in administration costs or other expenses."

Verna said that all his workers are volunteers.

"Out of the 80 vehicles we have received the last two years, 25 were sold to pay our way, and 53 have been given directly to Veterans," he said.

Holiday Tree Festival right around the corner

By DON RICHTER
MCN Special Writer

Organizers of the Holiday Tree Festival are busily planning for this year's edition, the third annual.

The Festival, which is currently looking for participants for this year's event, is open to any organized group or business with the tri-community area who would like to place a tree or wreath on exhibit in the Belleville Area Museum. The Festival runs from Saturday, November 28, 1998 thru Saturday, January 9, 1999.

The Festival Committee made note that the museum does have limited space for floor size trees, so they stressed that groups are highly encouraged to submit table top trees and wreaths for display.

Each tree or wreath should have a cultural or historical theme. A Homemade Christmas, Stars, Angels, Santas, etc., were some of the themes represented in last year's festival. With each entry, the group should supply a sign to be displayed with the tree. Organizers say the sign should include the Title of the Tree and the Group Name.

The rules of the Festival are as follows: Trees can be submitted for one of two categories: A floor size artificial tree for display inside the museum or a tabletop artificial tree (maximum three feet) also for display inside the museum. For wreaths, organizers ask that they be artificial only. Due to fire regulations, wreaths made with cut greens will be exhibited outside. A sturdy wire attached and ready for hanging is needed, as well. If your group desires lights, they will need to furnish their own long extension cord. The cord should be labeled so that it may be returned. Electrical equipment will be inspected and non-approved wiring will not be lighted.

Tree skirts and signs may be placed on the floor. There will be no hand out literature. The museum staff reserves the right to move a tree if necessary.

The Committee emphasized that space is limited. All entries are asked to be submitted as soon as possible.

Each group will be responsible for setting up and taking down their tree or wreath. The museum staff will not be available for help.

Participants must furnish their own wreaths, trees and stands.

Though previous experience has shown that open exhibits such as these are usually safe, organizers warn that very rare antique ornaments should not be displayed.

Trees and wreaths may be put up during the following hours: Tuesday, November 17 from 12:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m., Wednesday, November 18 from 12:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m., Friday, November 20, from 12:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m., Saturday, November 21, from 12:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m. and Monday, November 23 from 4:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.

Applications must be received by November 3. Spaces will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis. Trees and wreaths will be placed at the Museum's discretion. No spaces will be reserved.

For additional information call, (734) 995-8133.

Whyman grabs headlines, on or off ballot

Funny how it works. With the eye of the political season just around the corner, words proclaimed during heated electioneering two years ago, dominate the news scene.

Forget the battle of words between acid-tongued Geoffrey Fieger and Governor Engler. Forget the slow-to-get-started battle for State Senate pitting good guy incumbent Loren Bennett against equally Mr. Nice, Wayne mayor, Kenneth Warfield.

The best copy is being generated by ultra-conservative state representative, Debbie Whyman who isn't running for anything other than chief cook in her own kitchen.

Read what she told Eyewitness.

"Susan Borman ruled against me so that she may curry favor with homosexual voters. Borman has enjoyed the support of the homosexual extremist group Pride-PAC in a previous election...I wouldn't expect anything less from Geoffrey Fieger's nominee for Supreme Court." In the same conversation she called the judge a "shill" for homosexual powerbrokers.

And what caused Whyman to vent this angry tirade? Borman ruled last week that Whyman campaign literature that was distributed during her 1996 rout of Deborah Nesbit, defamed the Triangle Foundation by stating that the gay and lesbian rights group supported sex acts between grown men and boys. The literature supposedly linked Nesbit to Triangle.

Why Whyman found it necessary to make such statements is beyond me. The opposition, Nesbit, was not particularly well-known, well-financed or well, well Republican. No way, no how was she going to beat Whyman in a district that was and is 60 percent Republican.

Whatever the reason, Whyman who has never been tactful when it comes to controversial issues, claims the first amendment protects her right to say whatever she chooses. Her attorney Robert Huth added, "Americans deserve the right to speak out against political groups without fear of being legally lynched."

Good argument so it sounds, but not good enough for a mediation board that heard the case before it got tossed on Judge Borman's desk. The mediation panel voted to award Triangle $15,000 for the inaccurate campaign rhetoric. Whyman obviously rejected that decision only to be slapped by Borman with a similar verdict.

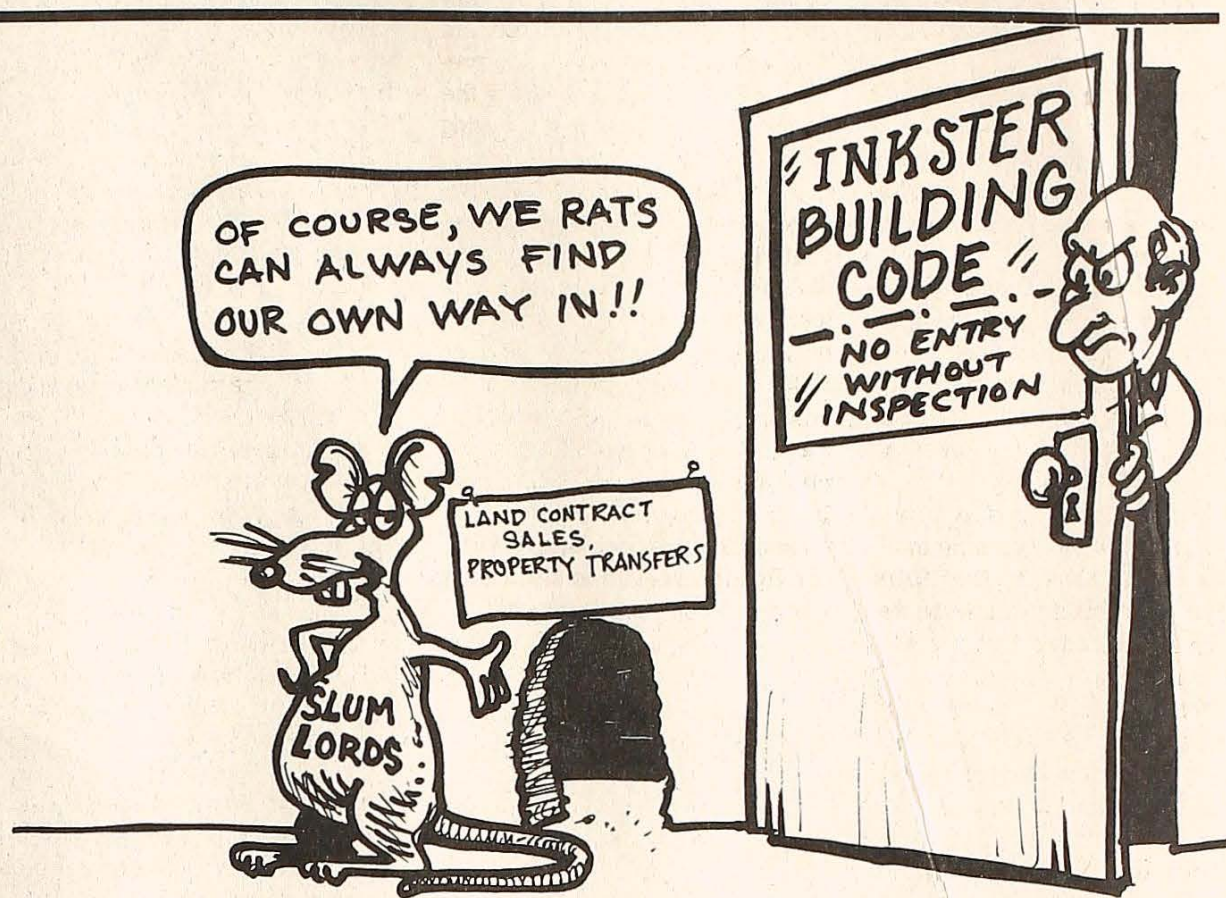

Democrats would like to have seen Whyman prevail in the three-way contest for a state senate seat in the August Primary. However she finished dead last, trailing winner Thaddeus McCotter and Jim Ryan. If she would have won the mudslinging between her and Triangle would have created fertile ground for a potential Democratic victory. Instead, private citizen Whyman can carry on without hurting anyone other than herself.

Many political pundits wondered what the local election battles would be like without Whyman and her pontifications. Would we really have to suffer through boring campaign literature, advertising and speeches like those presented by Bennett and Warfield? The answer is obviously "no." Even when she isn't on the ballot, Whyman somehow manages to grab the headlines.

Mike's musings

Monaghan's life after pizza

I never could understand Tom Monaghan. Not when he made his fortune mass producing bland pizzas. Not when he bought the Tigers and fired local institution Ernie Harwell. Not when he began charging a king's ransom for Christmas light shows at his Domino's Farms complex in Ann Arbor Township.

Nor do I understand his latest move: the giving away of his helicopter, yacht, aircraft, radio stations, a vintage car collection, Frank Lloyd Wright artifacts worth $1 million and an island resort on Lake Huron, dismissing them as "distractions."

The money from those sales has gone to a host of charities, along with $85 million from selling the Chicago Cubs baseball team six years ago.

Monaghan has also sold more than 90 per cent of his stake in Domino's for $1 billion.

Now 61, Monaghan promises to devote most of his time to charities.

A devout Roman Catholic, Monaghan has already established a charitable foundation and is expected to spend most of his time and cash in the next few years building Catholic schools across America, starting with Father Gabriel Richard High School at Domino's Farms.

Certainly I can understand bankrolling Gabriel Richard: it offers area students an alternative to area public schools, which, bland and nutritionless, ironically have much in common with Domino's pizzas.

Perhaps Monaghan is repenting for his grasping corporate life.

It began when he and his brother James began their home-delivery pizza chain with one store, DomiNick's, which they bought with a borrowed $900 in 1960. A year later, Tom bought out James for a Volkswagen Beetle.

Monaghan built up the business, focusing on free, lightning-fast home-delivery apparently at the expense of quality, until there were 6,100 Domino outlets worldwide, about two-thirds of them in the United States, yet no one I know will admit liking them.

Perhaps these flavorless thin pizzas were a weapon of his vengeance against society.

Monaghan had a tough childhood. He was brought up in foster homes and an orphanage before entering a seminary at the age of 17. After a brief stay with the Fr. Tucks, he enlisted in the Marine Corps.

The pizzerias followed his discharge. For him it meant riches — money for him to spend backing pet causes, such as restricting abortions.

In later life he had an epiphany.

"I realized how bad a person I really am," he told the Daily Telegraph (the source for this column). "It was exciting because it showed I really have got some room for improvement."

But I think that if he really wants to improve the world, he will use his remaining 10 percent interest in Domino's Pizzas to slow down his zippy delivery boys and come up with a pizza as good as Angelo's in Westland, Ernesto's in Plymouth, or Palermo's in Canton. Now that would be charity.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

Dress Rehearsal But No One Has The Costumes

Dear Readers: School clothing has become an annual undertaking for me since I began my column 15 years ago. Every year around this time I'm besieged with requests that come from parents, grandparents, children, neighbors and even school teachers. The dollar range being sought is from the very modest ($50 per child) to the outrageous ($500 per child).

For some parents it's the same struggle every year. They're barely making it from paycheck to paycheck and inevitably when September rolls around, it's a true hardship to outfit their children with new shoes, underwear and properly fitting attire. Climate has a huge bearing. The more southern locations can get by with non-seasonal clothing. Not so for the cooler climates, which require heavy sweaters, jackets, mittens, boots, hats—you get the picture.

For others it's a sudden loss of income that puts them behind the eight ball. Or if you're a single parent home with one income, and you lose your job, rent and food become the total focus. New underwear is something the rich kid down the block gets to start school in—not your kids.

In some families clothes can be passed down to younger siblings, especially if the genders are the same. A surprising number of families are willing to shop at thrift and second hand stores. Most all parents who write assure me that if awarded a dollar amount, the money will not be spent on designer name brands.

My intent is not to burden you with the heavy task I have at hand, namely deciding how much and to whom it will be sent. I'll prod through the requests and help as many children as I can start the school year with a little pride and confidence. My range is $100 per child.

My intentions are this. One, help support and lobby for legislature that will issue school uniforms. It may sound like a form of socialism, but if every student within a given school was dressed alike, I firmly believe that these students could truly apply themselves to the task at hand—learning.

My other intent, until such time as we have a national uniform policy, is to ask you to please help when you see a need. For many of us, we have no notion of what it's like to go to school in ragged, ill-fitting clothing, with shoes that aren't fit for a dog to chew.

Please don't lull yourself into thinking this only happens in densely populated, poverty-stricken, urban schools. What you don't realize is that it's happening at this very moment, at the school your child attends.

There is only room for me to print one letter in this column pertaining to this issue. It was selected because... well, you figure out why it was the one selected.

Dear Percy Ross: In April of this year my husband was put on medical disability and forced to retire from his job. We have been struggling month to month to pay our bills. I went back to work and we are slowly trying to catch up.

My problem right now is back to school clothes. I have 4 children who are school age. If you could send $200-$500 per child—it would really help us out. This is the first time I ever wrote you, but I've been reading your column for years. You give a lot of people hope for tomorrow and that's what counts.

Mrs. K. M. ... Tribune Chronicle, Warren, OH

Dear Mrs. M.: I may be approaching 82, but 75 years ago I was a kid, too—and a poor one, whose parents couldn't afford to buy me and my brothers new school clothes. I had the bare necessities and a hunger to learn. As far as I'm concerned, I was one of the lucky ones.

And so are your 4 children, if you can instill in them that school is the gateway to great adventure and unlimited opportunities. I'm sending $400 so each child has $100 to start the school year. Let's make it a good one!

Two major parties never admit they're wrong

To the Editor:

The national debt stands at five and a half trillion dollars. This year you and I will pay more than two hundred and forty billion dollars on the national debt in interest alone. That's money that won't go to our children's schools, but rather to banks, insurance companies, and other wealthy individuals and institutions as pure profit taken from the taxpayers. Because of the federal debt, when it comes time to support our local schools voters are not as inclined.

Not surprisingly the same group of special interests that is benefiting from the national debt is also spending hundreds of millions of dollars every year to control our election process. In this year's state election alone the Democratic and Republican parties will spend more than thirty million dollars. The money that could repair school roofs, eliminate portable classrooms, or restore fine arts programs will instead go to fund candidate's slam ads.

The other two major parties never admit when they're wrong. They certainly don't admit their parties' responsibility for the national debt and the effect on our children's future. When given an opportunity to pay down the national debt with more than a trillion dollars in broadcast spectrum rights sales, they chose instead to give your rights away. The same goes for our national interests. Through FAFTA, they have surrounded a whole generation of high paying, highly skilled American jobs for quick corporate profit. Now these parties are asking for your vote for financial trusteeship over our children's education in Michigan.

Not surprisingly this gross mismanagement of the people's resources has given birth to The Reform Party. There is no reason why we can't afford the finest system of schools in the world, other than for the greed of a few globalists. We welcome all patriotic, well meaning American citizens to join with us in ridding our government of this waste and corruption. The best way to begin changing our government starts with you. If you want reform, then vote Reform.

Reform Party Candidate

Times and The Economist can be forgiven if they were blindsided by the recent global economic collapse.

But, readers of my letters in this newspaper saw it coming at least two years ago. I have repeatedly called the so-called "global economy" an unsustainable economic heresy.

Last summer, I called the Asian currency collapse for what it turned out to be a global monetary apocalypse plain and simple.

But, how did these, then, seemingly crack-pot opinions become such accurate prophesy?

First, I have always assumed that the operative economic model for today should be the 1920's and 30's - because these were deflationary decades just like the 1980's and 90's.

Those who looked to the inflationary 1960's and 70's for guidance were simply barking up the wrong tree in my opinion.

OK great. But, now what?

Study the 1930's! The names are different, but it's all there - almost verbatim. Great events always follow a certain logical progression. We are a rational species but not a very creative one. The screw ups are all so painfully predicatable.

At this point, a single page of history is worth an entire textbook on economics.

chance to preclude development of the bomb by the North Koreans. Saddam Hussein has out-manuevered and out-muscled Clinton, sending inspectors packing. Clinton threatened use of military force a few months ago if Saddam didn't comply with inspection prerogatives, but is now showing the soft belly once again and is eating crow.

The Chinese not only continually dumped on Clinton on his recent visit, but have missiles aimed at American cities, thanks to Clinton's unthinking and uncaring disposition concerning American safety. Impeachment can be charged if there is misconduct on the part of the President or if his creditability can be challenged. Impeachment seems more than reasonable; it is necessary to right the foreign relations situations that are in such a sad state.

Election is only about replacing a middle school

To the Editor:

I recently read a letter with very disturbing allegations. The author stated "Remember this school district only wants your money not your voice." He also stated: "Please protect your right to vote, your pocketbook and your property."

In support of the authors position, the letter fails to mention many important fact. Some of these facts are that in the year 2000 Plymouth Canton will lose a school. This school, Lowell Middle School, will return to Livonia Public Schools. At least seven hundred and fifty children will then be without a middle school. These children will have to be placed into the four, already crowded, remaining middle schools. This will then result in double shifts or year round schools.

This election has nothing to do with the high school vote, it only deals with the replacement middle school bond, and new buses. Failure to pass this bond not only will impair our children, but their families, neighbors, and our community.

This dire scenario can be averted by voting "Yes" on the Lowell Middle School Replacement Bond. So dear neighbors, parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles, and property owners on October 3 (Saturday) please vote yes for Lowell Middle School Replacement Bond. As you know education is so important for a healthy community and healthy children. And yes protect your right to vote, your pocketbook and your property, because without good schools our property values will decrease.

Sincerely,
Dian Slavens

Warning: Senseless people may poison your defenseless dog

To the Editor:

On Thursday September 24, 1998 I received a phone call from my husband at work telling me someone had thrown or put an opened can of Armour Chicken in our backyard. Having two dogs, my first concern was: did either of the dogs eat out of it.

He said the "little guy." Well, the little guy is Max, my minnie pincher. He had eaten almost the whole can before my husband caught him.

Without hesitation I called our vet in Canton who suggested we bring the dog right in so my husband did. They had to induce vomiting immediately, assuming it was poison in the can.

My dog suffered for four hours while vomiting. Does this make any sense to try to poison a dog? I don't understand why anyone would have the heart to hurt a defenseless animal.

He seems to be fine today but his little body went through hell. Besides a nice bill from the vet and the fear of losing my dog it was totally senseless.

If you have a pet of any source please check your yard when you let them out because if it happened to me it could happen to you and you may not be so lucky.

To prove there was poison in the can it would have to have been sent away taken one week or longer plus expenses. Who has that kind of money these days??? Not me! I just wanted to make sure I could send this message to as many people out there that I could hoping it would at least make us aware that there are some heartless people out there.

Corner of Geddes and Canton Center Road needs policing

To the Editor:

Our busy corner at Geddes and Canton Center Road was finally completed to our immense joy and gratitude. The cars were crowding beside each other to get by on a two lane street. Tremendous building had increased the traffic volume immensely. A relief? No.

A three lane highway with a left turn and a right turn only was created. Would be the solution, you'd think. But the drivers will not obey the right turn only, and continue to crowd past the straightaway. We need a police car sitting there at the busy drive home from work time.

There have been several accidents that I know of lately and probably more. These drivers are press-next to the forward traffic and going faster than they did before. There were potholes then.

What is the matter with people, and where are the cops? They can see this happening. And the township can use the ticket fine money. This is illegal driving.

Support Van Buren public school's activities

To the Editor:

This is for Van Buren public school residents.

Support your schools! Support your schools! Yes, I am one of those persons that have called upon you in the past. Again, I ask you to support your schools. Not with your vote - not with your money - this time I'm asking you to support your schools with your attendance.

B.H.S. Homecoming activities are just around the corner. I hope you will be standing with your family on a corner of Belleville on Wednesday October 7, 1998, at 6:30 p.m. to enjoy the 1998 Homecoming U.S.A. Parade. We have the biggest and best high school band in Michigan. We have floats. (Remember when you helped work on the float for your homecoming activities? I do. It was great fun.) We have school teams and organizations. We have queen candidates. Please support your schools with your attendance.

Support your tigers Friday night by attending the homecoming game. Game time is 7:00 p.m. Come early and enjoy the first Tiger tailgate rally sponsored by the B.H.S. S.A.D.D./S.T.A.N.D. Chapter. (Sorry, here is where I ask for some of your money food for the tailgate will be provided for the cost of $3.00. The tailgate rally runs between 4:30 p.m. and 6:00 p.m., and will be held in the B.H.S. cafeteria. Bring your family, meet your friends, wear your orange and black and cheer those Tigers to victory! V.I.C.T.O.R.Y. That's our Tiger Battle Cry!)

I hope to see you at one or both of these school/community events. I make this request as a B.H.S. Alumni, teacher, and sponsor for S.A.D.D.

Sincerely,
Carolyn (Haft) Hyde

A magical year...and it isn't over yet

Area seniors have seen a lot in the last 55 or more years...but they say the last few months have already made 1998 a unique year to remember.

Most positively they cite recent actions by Mark McGwire, Sammy Sosa and Cal Ripken as the catalysts in bringing baseball back as America's favorite pastime.

It couldn't have come at a better time for area residents with Detroit sports (except the Red Wings) rather dismal, and national politics at an all time low and in danger of making 1998 the "Year of the Cigar."

So far the seniors are delighted that no scandal has broken out over the trio of baseball heroes and not one has even spit at an umpire this year.

Seniors who remember the days of Roger Maris...find it unbelievable that McGwire was walked over 160 times (many times intentionally) and yet still hit his 61st home run in the same time period as Babe Ruth (154 games).

Maris needed the extended time period (the majors began playing 162 games in the 60's), although he never was walked once intentionally in his record year, because he had feared slugger Mickey Mantle batting behind him in the line-up.

That makes McGwire's efforts even more impressive, they say.

Baseball purists also have mixed feelings on Ripken's decision to yank himself out of the line-up before the 1998 season ended, ending his consecutive playing streak at 2,632 games.

Some wished he had kept playing until he felt wounded. Others admire the fact that Ripken called his own shot...rather than let Manager Ray Miller decide that day for him.

While McGwire, Sosa and Ripken have varied personalities...most seniors agree all show a unique work ethic...something they feel is missing in many areas of American life today.

One final sidelight to the 1998 baseball season is the make-up of the amazing New York Yankees, who won a total of 114 games with little known players. What makes 1998 unique also in the baseball world is that three teams won more than 100 games.

Seniors laugh and say "a perfect trivia question in the year 2005 will be "name three starters on the championship Yankee team of 1998."

Once they get past Derek Jeter, most seniors predict, the trivia players will be staring blankly ahead without future guesses. Jeter -- a native of Kalamazoo and rookie of the year several years ago -- already is a fan favorite.

But outside New York City, few fans today even can name many others in the starting Yankee line-up.

A lively discussion took place recently among seniors on whether early TV's 13 channels offered more of interest to viewers than today's 60- 80 channels.

Most complain hours of "paid programs" today blunt any real interest in TV viewing for seniors. Many of those "paid programs" offer items seniors have no interest in, they state.

One sharp-eyed male octogenarian joked "even in my youth I wouldn't have purchased a pair of Curves" and yet the pitch can last a half hour or more.

Maybe though, he quipped, "I'll get motivated at 3 o'clock some morning and enroll in one of those become a millionaire overnight real estate courses."

Another joked "when I can't sleep I turn on the golf channel. I'm asleep in 40 minutes. I wish that channel was available when I was raising my kids...it would have saved buying a lot of sleeping pills."

Area retired men (particularly Republicans) can still remember the days of President Dwight David Eisenhower -- who vowed he would have an administration that was "clean as a hound's tooth."

Eisenhower even got rid of his Chief of Staff Sherman Adams, after he was accused of accepting a gift of a "vicuna coat."

Most of the public didn't even know what a "vicuna coat" consisted of...but it was enough to potentially stain Ike's image...so Adams and the coat disappeared. For the uninformed a vicuna coat comes from an animal that resembles a llama.

The coat never made the erotic scope of Monica Lewinsky's dress...but that I guess was a stain of a different era.

Fischer Library announces fall activities

By DON RICHTER
MCN Staff Writer

The Fred C. Fischer Library, in conjunction with the "Friends of the Library" group, has announced their fall activities schedule for 1998.

Beginning Saturday, October 3, the library intends to host a used book sale from 12:00 noon until 4:00 p.m. The sale includes all categories including, classics, mysteries, science fiction, biography, self-help, gardening, romance, general fiction, history, crafts and more. Prices will range from ten cents for children's books to 50 cents for hardbound.

On Saturday, October 17, from 1:00 p.m. until 3:00 p.m., Fred's Poetry Cafe will be open for business. On this day, at least, local patrons won't

The only vacant position left to be filled on the committee is that of a representative of the clergy.

Merritt will serve on the board for three years.

Along with the show will be a T-shirt design contest to be judged by our featured artists. The contest is open to individuals 18 years of age and under. The designer should create a representation of what the library or reading means to them. Awards will be given at the art show.

Pick up entry forms and further details at the library or call 699-3291 for more information. The deadline for entry is October 15.

Exciting programs being planned for next year include: Stress or Health, Michigan Travel, Garden Plant Swap, UFO's, and Mystery writer Loren Estleman.

The "Friends of the Library" will be having their next meeting, October 3 at 9:30 a.m. All are welcome.

Video Club students tape school board meetings for first time

By DON RICHTER
MCN Staff Writer

The Belleville High School Media Productions Class and Video Club for the first time, Monday, videotaped the Van Buren Public School Board meeting in the BHS cafeteria.

The shoot, at least outwardly, went off without a hitch.

The three camera system, all mounted on tripods, were ably-manned by students from the Video Club, under the direction of Steve Wilson, Video Club sponsor.

"This is a great opportunity for the students to get involved," said school board member Ralph Nodwell. "It shows that the kids of our community have a lot of talent in this area. The people of our community might not have known about this beforehand--now they do. This is an opportunity for our students to shine."

Wilson commented that taping the board meetings can be tough to shoot because, "people are constantly talking back and forth. The students have to be on their toes. It's not like taping a football game where the action is generally going in one direction."

The video program according to Wilson is growing in popularity. "Quite a few students are interested in this program. The more publicity that we get, the better. That way more stu-

Construction of BHS music wing ahead of schedule

The Belleville High School music wing addition, approved by voters in June, is well under way and ahead of schedule.

"We're moving so fast," said project developer Steve Davenport, "that our suppliers are finding it hard to keep up with us."

The project, which will add much needed space to the existing band room, should be completed by January according to Davenport.

A representative from the Ann Arbor-based architectural firm of Mitchell & Moutat marveled at the professionalism and efficiency of the Davenport crew, "In my 40 years of school construction, I've never seen a contractor move so fast. Steve (Davenport) has everyone working as best as they can."

Davenport made sure to stress to the board and audience members attending last Monday's school board meeting that, "we are making sure that we are doing a thorough job. A lot of our employees are working overtime and even some Sundays."

School board member Martha Toth agreed, "It's amazing. When I come to the school on Sunday for certain events, there is always somebody out there working. That's wonderful."

Middle schools to celebrate "Fun Nights"

By DON RICHTER
MCN Staff Writer

North and South Middle Schools will be celebrating their first "Fun Nights" soon.

South will have theirs on Friday, October 2, from 6:30 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. North will follow with their "Fun Night" the next Friday, October 9, from 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.

Both schools will have various activities for students to enjoy.

Two Catholic charities unite

The Felician Sisters O.S.F. of Livonia and the Sisters of Mercy, Detroit Regional Community, have signed a letter of intent to create a long-term sponsorship arrangement between the two Catholic congregations for a formal organizational relationship between their respective health care ministries, St. Mary Hospital (SMH) and Mercy Health Services (MHS). All parties share the vision of a strengthened regional Catholic health care delivery system for southeast Michigan.

During the next 12 months, the sponsoring congregations and organizational leaders will work together and commit the necessary reflection and resources to defining the details of the relationship.

"As we reflect on the scope of our ministries, the realities of an aging congregation and our commitment to Catholic health care ministry, we believe that a regional sponsorship arrangement with the Sisters of Mercy, combined with the regional health care delivery system of Mercy Health Services, is the best way to enhance and preserve the Catholic health care ministry of St. Mary Hospital," said Sister Mary Dennis, Provincial Minister, dietician Sisters, and Corporate Board Chairperson, St. Mary Hospital Board of Trustees. "We are very pleased to be working with the Felician Sisters and St. Mary Hospital," said Sister Linda Werthman, RSM, President, Sisters of Mercy, Detroit Regional C6. We are continuing our shared mission of service to the residents of Livonia and western Wayne County through this partnership."

Huron Township Applefest this weekend

By DON RICHTER
MCN Staff Writer

It's that time of year again, in Huron Township. It's the time of year when "Apple Annie" and "Apple Charlie" are the most popular people in town. A time when everything and anything turns up apples. "This is the 19th year of the Applefest," said Carol Hoagland, committee member for the Applefest. "It's always a good time."

The Applefest was brought about all those years ago to promote the apple agricultural growers of the community. "We wanted to bring the community together as a whole," said Hoagland. "Any money that has been made off of the Applefest, goes right back into the community. It's donated back for community improvements like benches, new lights and to various organizations including D.A.R.E., the Huron Athletic Association and the police and fire departments." The festivities will be taking place from the intersection of Main Street, Waltz Road and Hannan Road all the way down through town to Cass Street.

Some of the more popular attractions of the two-day event will be the Arts and Crafts displays lining downtown all day, both days, a first-year fireworks extravaganza which will take place on Saturday, October 3, at 10:00 p.m., on the lot across from Township Hall. "We're all very excited about that," said Hoagland.

Other fun moments should be found during the Children's Events, October 3. The 2-4 year olds start things off with a "Dig for your pennies", and a "Pick your color" event, from 10-10:30 a.m. The 5-6 year olds are next with a bean bag toss and a musical chairs competition from 10:30-11 a.m. The 7-8 year olds will see who's best in the "Blow the biggest bubble gum bubble" contest and the "Balloon butt bust" event, from 11-11:30 a.m. 9-10 year olds are next with a "no hands apple eating contest" and an egg and spoon race from 11:30-12 p.m. The 11-12 year olds will play horseshoes and ping pong basketball between 12-12:30 p.m. The 13-14 year olds will finish things up with a football toss competition and a hole-in-one golf event from 12:30-1 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third place.

There will be face painting from 11-1 p.m. and a magic show from 2-3 p.m., as well.

Some of the more interesting and intriguing events will be the Tractor Pull, on Saturday, October 3, from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., where both old and new tractors compete to see which machine can pull the most weight. "That is always a popular event," said Hoagland.

There will be a steak fry where you can cook your own steak on big grills provided by the township and enjoy baked potatoes and vegetables and everything else you can imagine for only $8.00.

A Fiddle Contest will take place where fiddlers from all across the country come to Huron Township to decide who's best. "Each fiddler plays their own tune and our judges decide who performs best," said Hoagland. "It's a fun event that has been going on for years."

There's a Pony Pull where, instead of tractors, ponies compete to see which one can pull the most weight.

And there will be a Harley Davidson Raffle. Sponsored by the Huron Township Rotary Association, it always draws a big crowd. "The Rotary buys a Harley and then they raffle it off. They've been doing this for years," said Hoagland. The drawing is at 8 p.m. on Sunday, October 4. Buy a ticket for $5.00 and enter it into the raffle, and for that small investment, you might be lucky enough to ride off on a "Hog".

A welcome addition to this year's festivities will be the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). This year they will sponsor a carnival and a haunted house. The carnival games will cost $1.00 each while the haunted house will be $2.00. All proceeds from both events will go towards the MDA.

North Homes Mobile Home Dealership has donated a mobile home to MDA to use for the haunted house. The house will be open from 9 a.m. until dusk, both days, if you dare venture in.

"Events like these help benefit our local patients and families," said Deborah Vandervoort, MDA program coordinator. "We pride ourselves on that. We try and take good care of our people."

This first year partnership with the Applefest was Vandervoort's idea. "I had been to Applefest before and enjoyed it and I thought it would be a good idea to have MDA participate and get involved in this event. All it took was one call to "Apple Charlie", (owner of a local apple orchard) and he said he would help me in any way he could. He felt it was a great idea for us (MDA) to get involved. His heart is as big as his apple orchard."

Watch Out For Eye Allergies

(NAPS)—Health experts say that this year's allergy season is among the worst in decades, thanks to a very mild winter, a wetter-than-normal spring, and a very long and hot summer season.

"This year's record-setting bloom of trees, grasses and weeds will bring about unusually high pollen counts and a marked increase in allergy symptoms," explains Ira Finegold, MD, an allergy expert.

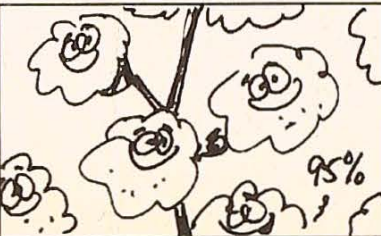

An estimated 20 percent of children between the ages of four and ten suffer from allergy symptoms.

People don't have to suffer needlessly during a long and severe allergy season. Doctors can now prescribe medication to prevent or treat allergy symptoms.

"Many people think that allergies just affect their nose, throat and lungs, but the eyes are usually affected too," Dr. Finegold explains. "The same pollen that makes us sniffle and sneeze can irritate our eyes and make them itch, become red, and water."

"A prescription eye drop called PATANOL® works in minutes to relieve itchy allergic eyes and lasts for eight hours. It can be used in children as young as three," Dr. Finegold adds.

Talk to your doctor or pediatrician about how to treat allergy symptoms. For a free brochure about eye allergies, call 1-888-728-2665.

Romulus adds 4th win to storybook season

Robichaud is on a 3-0 roll

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Slow-starting Robichaud exploded for 16 points in the third quarter to break open a scoreless game against an inspired, but winless, Dearborn Heights Annapolis and went on to post a 22-6 victory over their Mega Conference Gold Division football foes.

First-year Robichaud coach Bob Yauck Jr. was not impressed by his team's overall performance, and he vowed to shake up the lineup. Annapolis was winless going into match up between the two cross town rivals.

"We did not look good, especially on offense in that first half," stressed Yauck, whose Bulldogs are now 3-1 on the season. "We fumbled twice in the first half deep in their territory."

"Needless to say, I was not very happy about that."

In the first quarter, quarterback Quantane Riley strung together a six-play, 57-yard drive that carried the Bulldogs to the six where a fumble destroyed the excellent scoring opportunity.

Then, later in the quarter, Robichaud penetrated deep again, and moved inside the Cougars' 19-yard line where a mishandled exchange returned the ball to Annapolis.

It was tailback Levi Peoples that eventually got the Bulldogs on the scoreboard. Early in the second quarter, after a short Annapolis punt gave the Bulldogs the ball on their own 33, Riley moved the team to the 19 where Peoples sliced his way through the Cougar line and didn't stop until he was in the Annapolis end zone.

Peoples also gave his team the two-point conversion, on an off-tackle slant.

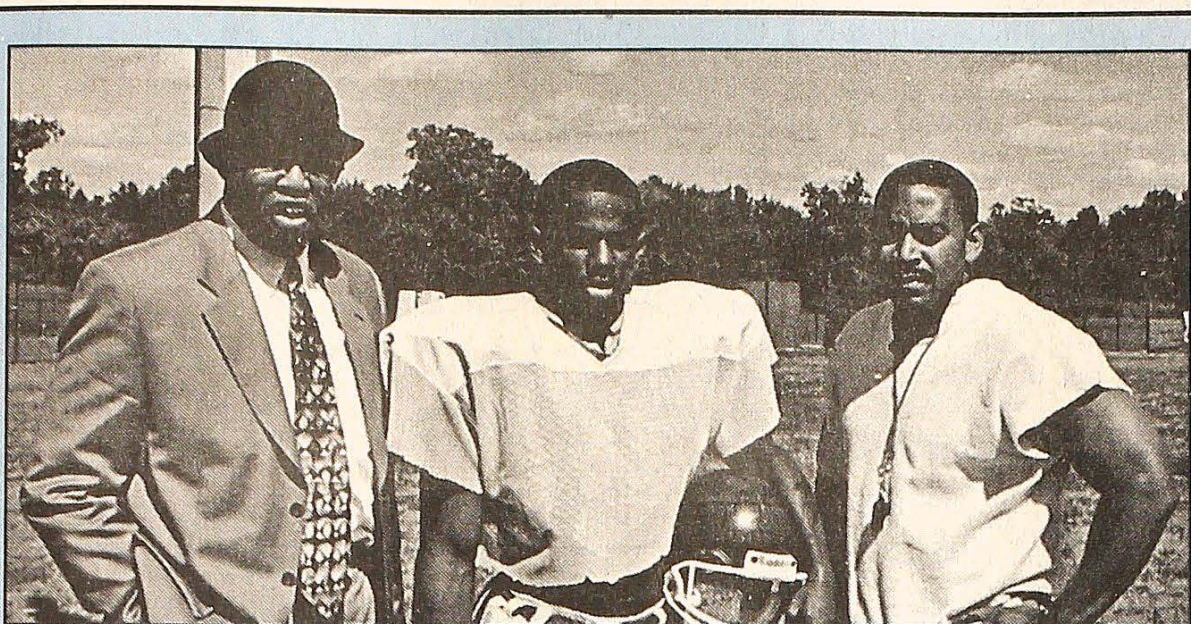

After an exchange of punts, Robichaud came back with a late second quarter TD that featured a 21-yard pass from Riley to tight end Jihad Abdullah. Peoples' two point conversion gave the Bulldogs a 16-0 lead.

Annapolis did not quit, however. The Cougars came back with a first series, third quarter sustained drive that ended with quarterback Brandon Lantz's two-yard TD, pulled off on a keeper, A 40-yard pass completion set up the Cougars' lone TD.

For insurance, Robichaud cashed in on Alex Hudgens' five-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. That final Bulldog score was set up after Robichaud's defense held Annapolis on their own one. The subsequent punt by the Cougar kicker wound up on their own 19.

Peoples, who had 132 yards on 20 carries and two touchdowns, continued to look impressive, and Riley connected on four of 10 passes for 55

Eagles continue to soar

Close calls Glenn survives at Farmington, 14-7

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

If coach Chuck Gordon cancelled all of his future Saturday afternoon football games, there probably would not be many complaints after the Rockets' lackadaisical performance at Farmington.

Under a sunlit, cloudless sky, and with temperatures climbing to a record 91 degrees, the undefeated Rockets wilted at Farmington in their first Saturday matinee game of the season.

Glenn managed to sweat out a 14-7 decision to keep their streak intact, but even Gordon will admit it wasn't very easy or one of the better efforts by his team.

Glenn's fourth victory also revealed that senior running back Reggie Spearmon could be stopped from indiscriminately crossing over into end zones.

For the first time this season, Spearmon didn't score, despite the fact he racked up 112 yards on and incredible 34 attempts.

Scoreless the first quarter, Glenn drew first blood when, with 1:51 left, quarterback Nick Hudson and Eric Jones combined on a short pass that Jones turned into a 79-yard run-pass touchdown play.

After Jeremy Caterino kicked the extra point, the Rockets appeared to be off their launching pad and well on their way into orbit.

Not so.

Farmington kept the Rockets earthbound as the Falcons came back in the third quarter and tied the score with running back Grant Weber's TD jaunt and Matt Wayne's PAT.

Before handing the game over to their defenses in the fourth quarter, the Rockets put what proved to be the winning TD on the scoreboard late in the third, getting some unexpected but welcomed help from the hosts.

Glenn's John Pettit managed to break through the weary Falcon line and blocked a punt which the Rockets recovered on the Farmington two-yard line. Then, on the first play from scrimmage, Hudson took it over for the winning TD.

Caterino made good on the extra point.

...but Rocks don't, upset 25-17

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

A strange thing happened to previously undefeated Plymouth-Salem en route to an anticipated showdown with Westland John Glenn for the Western Lakes Division title - coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks fell to an unheralded, winless Walled Lake Central, 25-17, Friday night.

The loss hurt, but the way Salem fell to Central, was equally painful, according to the veteran coach.

Central scored all 25 points in the first 12 minutes of the game. Moshimer said it is difficult to recall the last time an opponent had previously scored that many points in a single quarter against one of his teams.

"We must get our act together," warned Moshimer, whose Rocks meets North Farmington next, a team that made John Glenn sweat before losing a 14-7 decision. "This North Farmington team is much improved. If we don't get our act together, you can bet it's going to be a long afternoon."

North will host the 1 p.m. Saturday encounter.

Central hit the Rocks hard as the Vikings cashed in on two first-quarter Salem turnovers - a fumble and an interception - for a pair of touchdowns.

Salem came out of its state of shock in the second quarter and put 17 points on the scoreboard after Gordie Perrin recovered a Central fumble for a two-point safety.

After the ensuing kickoff, running back Gabe Coble capped an 83-yard, six play drive with a touchdown from nine yards out.

Salem had an opportunity to tie the score in the third quarter when the Rocks marched inside the Central 10, but gave up the ball on a fumble.

Moshimer said the telltale fact in the loss were the turnovers - Central had none; the Rocks coughed up the ball twice via interceptions and three times through fumbles for a total of five miscues.

North Farmington may have gotten off to a slow start this season, says Moshimer, but North has improved and proved it can put TDs on the scoreboard.

"If we have a total collapse as we did in that first quarter against Central, believe me we will be in trouble," said Moshimer.

Russell scores 3 TDs as Eagles jolt Ypsi

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus and senior tailback Freddie Russell added another page to what is slowly developing into a storybook season for coach Mark Woodson and the Eagles.

The undefeated Eagles stunned Ypsilanti 32-14 Friday night at Ypsi for their four straight victory, and that win kept Romulus atop of the Mega Conference Gold Division standings.

Trailing 6-0 after the first 12 minutes, after Nate Brooks put the hosts on the scoreboard with a late 25-yard touchdown run, Romulus erupted for three touchdowns in the second quarter to eliminate the deficit and grab a 20-14 lead at the intermission that they never surrendered.

"I felt that they (Ypsi) gave us their best shot in the first half and we took it," said Woodson. "I told the kids how I felt during our halftime meeting, and the kids came back and built on their momentum."

Woodson said he didn't feel comfortable until the final whistle because he remembered the dramatic finish between the two teams a year ago. In the 1997 encounter, Ypsi pulled out a 14-13 victory after scoring in the final minute of the game.

Ypsi did retake the lead briefly in the second quarter when quarterback Paul Mc-

Romulus went on to score two more touchdowns in that quarter.

Carty teamed up with Brooks on a 10-yard pass play that netted the Braves their second score.

But then the Eagles responded with a pair of touchdowns in the final three minutes of the opening half that jolted the hosts. The Braves never did recover.

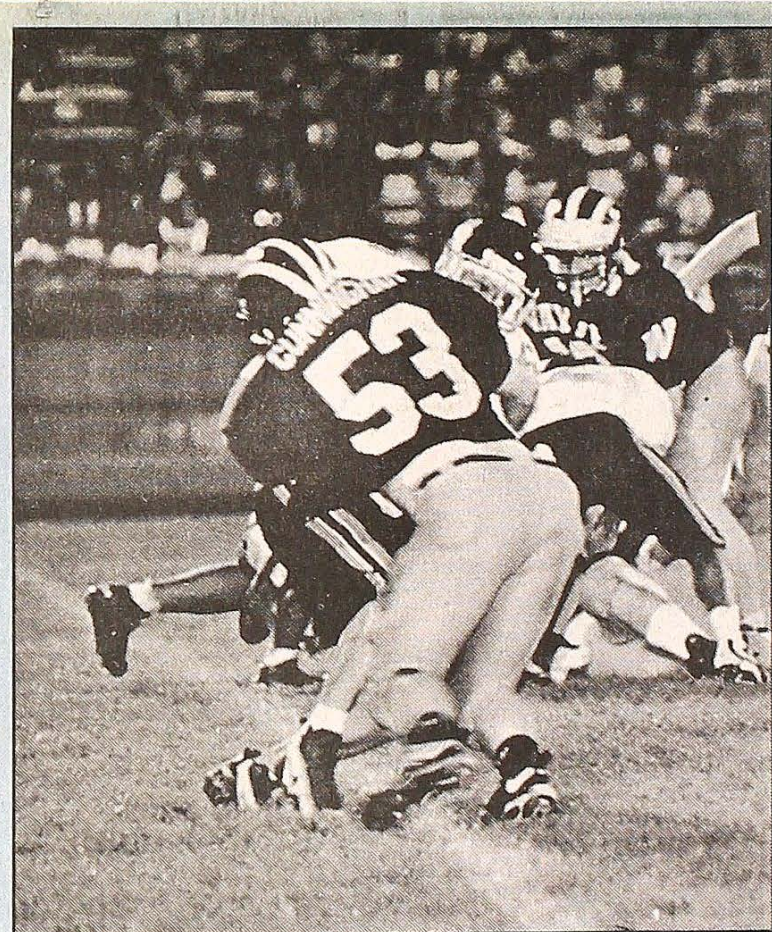

There would be second half or last-minute heroics in this one as the Eagle defense, led by cornerback A. C. Chadwick, Robert Boykins, Charlie Thompson, Rick Foster and Damien Crawford, shut out the Braves in the second half.

Russell's 31-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter knotted the game at six-all and Derek Plave's boot for the point-after was good, giving the visitors a 7-6 edge.

Romulus went on to score two more touchdowns in that quarter, but only after the hosts regained the lead with that McCarty to Brooks TD pass.

With 2:50 left, Russell again struck with a two-yard, off

The plot thickens

After losing their Mega Conference opener at Fordson three weeks ago, Wayne Memorial has roared back to post impressive victories over Belleville (above) and Southgate Anderson. Coach Floyd Carter and the Zebras will need a victory Saturday over visiting Dearborn Edsel Ford if they hope to stay in the chase for the coveted Mega Conference. Wayne builds momentum with 3rd win in Mega

Edsel Ford is next for Carter

Make that three out of four for Wayne Memorial.

And that is the Zebras' best start in recent years.

Coach Floyd Carter and the Zebras picked up their third Mega Conference, Red Division victory at the expense of Southgate Anderson, 32-0, Friday night, and Wayne will attempt to keep the momentum going before a Homecoming crowd on Saturday when they host Dearborn Edsel Ford at 1 p.m.

Carter says Edsel Ford has an excellent tradition of producing outstanding football teams and players, and this year's club is no exception.

"Bridges (Jack Bridges, Edsel coach) has been coaching as long as I have," Carter commented. "They like to run the option and their quarterback can pass."

Carter also said that last week's performance against Anderson should serve as a wake-up call.

"If we play the way we did in the first quarter against Anderson, they (Edsel) will destroy us."

Carter pointed out that his team "didn't execute well on offense in the early stages of the game."

Wayne did not get on the scoreboard until late in the second quarter.

Anderson, shut out in three of the four games it has been in this year, kept Wayne scoreless the first quarter. It wasn't until 4:27 in the second period that the Zebras managed to break the scoreless knot.

Wayne quarterback Terry Turner put together a 54-yard drive in seven plays that ended with a 14-yard TD pass to Willie Perryman. Turner's two first-down runs of 15 and 11 yards formed the nucleus of that initial drive.

Perryman also kicked the extra point, lifting Wayne to a 7-0 lead.

It took all of three minutes for Wayne to get back on the scoreboard. Again it was Turner, whose 21-yard, off-tackle jaunt set up the score. The series covered 30-yards in four plays, with the fourth a three-yard touchdown run by tailback Cameron Mingo.

Perryman again came through with the extra point, and now the Zebras had some breathing room.

Wayne scored three second-half touchdowns, but the first after the half came late in the third (1:47) period as Turner this time chose Jamaul Simmons for his target.

Simmons caught a 48-yarder from Turner that gave the hosts a 20-0 lead.

The 76-yard, six-play drive included a third and fourth-down, 20-yard pass from Turner to Jeremy Overton.

A short punt by Southgate early in the fourth quarter set up another Wayne score. The Zebras took possession of the ball on the Anderson 35 and a 17-yard run by Eric Wojie set the stage for Mingo's five-yard TD sprint with 10:31 on the clock.

Wayne wrapped up its scoring after Kwame Hampton picked off his second pass of the game, and returned the ball 38-yards to the Anderson 20. In two plays, Turner moved the ball to the eight where Brandon Crawford drove in for his first TD of the game.

Hampton had an exceptional game as he intercepted twice and returned the ball for a total of 60 yards. He also had two rushes for an additional 49 yards. Williams and Turner each intercepted once and Czyzak recovered a fumble.

Turner completed four of 11 passes for 87 yards and two touchdowns. The Wayne QB also rushed for 44 yards on 10 tries.

Wayne had the edge in first downs, 13-9. The running backs accounted for nine of those while Turner's passing netted three and the other was awarded Wayne because of a penalty.

tackle score that capped a 55-yard drive orchestrated by Boykins' outstanding leadership.

Plave's second PAT put the Eagles up 14-6.

With one-second to share, Romulus cashed in a Boykins' 14-yard pass to end Carleton McCauley for their final touchdown of the opening half.

The Eagles came back after the intermission to dominate the game. It was the defense and Chadwick's interception of a misfired Ypsi pass that put the Eagles on the scoreboard in the third quarter.

Chadwick returned the ball 75 yards as the defense provided him with the key blocks that broke him loose.

Though Plave's point-after attempt missed the uprights, the Eagles had a cushioned 26-14 lead.

Russell came back for his third TD of the game on a five-yard, up-the-middle jaunt that gave the Eagles their final score.

The senior Romulus tailback scored three of his team's five TDs, rushed for 243 yards on 19 attempts. Boykins, who tossed for one touchdown, was three of six for 43 yards, while Thompson added 44 yards on eight attempts.

Boykins also stood out on defense where he was credited with five solos tackles; Foster had nine assists as well as five solos, and Foster carded five solos and five assists.

Crawford, a defensive end, came up with two sacks of the QB and three assisted tackle to go along with his four solos.

Penalties also played a major role in this game.

Woodson said that his team was assessed 75 yards on nine infractions and the Braves were called for 19 penalties which cost them 145 yards.

The loss dipped Ypsi's record to 1-3 on the year.

Woodson says his fifth game won't be an easy one. The Eagles are at Inkster Friday afternoon at 4 p.m.

"This is a well-coached, disciplined Inkster team," said Woodson. "They led the defending champs by two TDs a week ago before losing to them. They are tough, and we know it."

yards.

On defense, outside line-backer Raymond Raplay had a sackful of sacks - seven solos and three assists.

The Bulldogs have an opportunity to make it four straight (they lost their opener to Grosse Ile) on Friday when they clash with a 1-3 River Rouge team that has had more than its share of problems.

But Yauck warns that the Panthers' record is "very deceptive."

"With the exception of their loss to Romulus," says Yauck, "the other River Rouge losses were close. They run the option well, have an offense that is power-orientated and also have some outstanding athletes in the lineup.

"Believe me, we are not taking them lightly."

Kickoff at Rouge is 7 p.m. Friday.

Hudson went to the air 12 times and found receivers for his passes eight time for 142 yards. Jones caught seven of those eight Hudson passes for 107 yards. The eighth reception went to Daniel Smitherman.

Glenn has sole possession of Lakes Division lead thanks to Walled Lake Central.

No. 5 for the Rockets is Livonia Stevenson, an enigmati-cal team that won an aerial battle over North Farmington, 42-22, in its last outing. Glenn's secondary will be tested Friday night when the Spartans bring their air show to town.

In the meantime, Glenn has sole possession of Lakes Division lead thanks to Walled Lake Central which upset the only previously undefeated in the Lakes Division, Plymouth-Salem.

Dardin, Williams set pace

Inkster High picked up its second Mega Conference Gold Division cross country victory at the expense of Taylor Kennedy last week.

Coach Keith Bailey's Vikings finished 1-2 thanks to the performances of Chauncey Dardin and Michael Williams who led their team to a commanding 15-50 rout of Kennedy.

"Although our times are nothing to write home about," said Bailey, "they are improving. All of our runners managed to shave a few seconds off of their best times."

Chauncey covered the Kennedy course in 19 minutes flat, and his teammate Williams was clocked in 20:21.

After Kennedy runners nailed down third and fourth places, Inkster came up with the fifth-best effort in James Thornton. Thornton's teammates James Swanigan and Al Overton placed sixth and seventh.

Best start

Wayne is off to its best start ever in the Mega Conference thanks, in part, to the aggressive play of quarterback Terry Turner (No. 3) and an outstanding supporting cast. Turner has guided the Zebras to a 3-1 overall and a 2-1 conference record. Turner scored two TDs against Southgate Anderson in a 32-0 victory on Friday. Wayne will celebrate Homecoming on Saturday and, in town, to help coach Floyd Carter's team celebrate will be the T-Birds of Edsel Ford High School. Kickoff is at 1 p.m. cflPhoto by Aaron Ortiz.

Dearborn missiles shoot down Tigers in Mega Red

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It is a rare season, indeed, that a Bob LaPointe coached football team would suffer back-to-back losses.

But that's what Wayne and Dearborn did to LaPointe's Tigers over the past two weeks as Belleville fell before the home crowd to a determined and state-ranked Dearborn 32-28 Friday night.

Despite back-to-back losses, LaPointe cautions opponents not to count the defending co-champs out of the title race.

Not yet, anyway. "There is," he warns, "a lot of season left."

Belleville's secondary had to work overtime against a Pioneer team that used the passing arm of senior QB C. J. Kreger to test the secondary time and time again.

At the end, Kreger prevailed. Kreger fired missile-after missile at the Tigers and he managed to hit his target on TD passes of 24 yards, 7 and 32.

And those three were on, would you believe, on fourth-down situations? But his last and decisive TD hurt the most because it appeared that Belleville's Mark Kroger was in range for the crucial interception.

Instead, the ball, deflected by Kroger, wound up in Derek Lingenfelter's hands.

Lingenfelter didn't waste any time. He twisted and turned and raced for the end zone for a 58-yard touchdown that most would say ended the Tigers dream for a repeat.

Though the handwriting was on the wall, Belleville refused to acknowledge the message. The Tigers came right back in the final three minutes and quarterback Kevin Harrison set up the Tigers' last score when he carried his team from their own 10 to the two where Brandon Montgomery scored.

Belleville earlier got a four-yard plunge from fullback Greg Terrell that capped a four-play, 66-yard drive that gave the Tigers six-points in their opening drive of the second half. Montgomery set the stage for that one with a 51-yard jaunt to the Pioneer 4-yard line after hitting the line and getting some key blocks that appeared to open the road to paydirt.

While Dearborn (4-0) takes on Monroe, the owner of the other half of the Mega Conference Red Division title, Belleville will travel to Wyandotte Roosevelt where the Tigers won't receive a reprieve of any sort.

Romulus faces an improved Inkster in No. 5

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

An improved Inkster football squad, which stunned defending Mega Conference Gold Division champs a week ago, clashes with undefeated Romulus on the home turf Friday afternoon.

Inkster, the perennial door-mat in football, is the surprise team in the area this season. First year rookie coach Mark Townsend has led the Vikings to a 2-2 overall record.

And the Vikings came close to upsetting defending division champ, Carlson, on Friday.

Inkster led at one point in the game 12-3 before a second-half Carlson blitz lifted the champs to an 18-12 victory over the visitors.

Vikings fall to defending champ, Carlson

Though disappointed with the loss, Townsend said that the game against Carlson proved that his team could play against anyone in the league.

"We just ran out of gas over there," said Townsend, referring to the Carlson game. "It was a disappointing loss for our kids because they felt that they could win.

"After all, we were up 12-3 at the half."

Townsend said that he realizes that Romulus is the premier team in the division right now, "but I don't think they are selling us short."

"We are where they were a few years ago," Townsend continued. "We have built this program around kids who played together and stayed together from the junior high program."

"Woodson (Mark Woodson, Romulus coach) did the same thing with the team he has now. The results are obvious."

Woodson said that Inkster is the most improved team in the conference. And he added that "anyone who underestimates the talent, coaching staff and personnel will pay for their mistake."

"They are going to give everybody in this division a battle, and we're going over there prepared to play."

In Friday night's match up with Carlson, the Vikings managed to keep their hosts out of the end zone in the first half. A field goal was the champ's only score.

In the meantime, Inkster's defense put the Vikings on the scoreboard when cornerback Michael Gray stole a Carlson pass and raced back 75 yards for a touchdown.

Inkster build its lead to 12-0 when Gray again came back with a superlative run that led to the second TD of the game. He broke loose on an end around and raced 73 yards to the Carlson 19.

Carlson dug in and managed to throw the Vikings for losses. But on a third down play, Gray, at tailback, managed to connect on a 31-yard pass to Alfonso Clark for the Vikings second score of the game.

Carlson managed to put its game together after the half and scored 15 unanswered points to pull out the victory. Gray led the Vikings' ball-carriers. He rushed for 119 yards on 16 attempts. Team-mate Lucius Hawkins added 46 yards on four tries.

Inkster's defense, led by Gray, Antonio Wimberly and DeAndre Greene, along with tight ends Andrian Jones and Jenkins, played a superlative game. They'll need to step up their game a notch if they hope to ruin Romulus' storybook season.

WYAA's Comets to host Homecoming

The Comets will have an added incentive to win on Sunday.

That's when the Westland Youth Athletic Association Comets will host their annual "Homecoming" game, and on hand to help in the celebration will be the Redford Rangers.

The Homecoming Parade will begin at 10:20 am...

Three games, the first starting at noon, will be played at the Westland John Glenn, the Comets' home field.

The freshmen will kick off the excitement, followed by the junior varsity squad, then the varsity.

Admission is free.

WYAA officials said that the Homecoming Parade will begin at 10:20 a.m. and start from Wildwood School, then procession will travel to John Glenn.

By the way, WYAA is still seeking volleyball players for its Junior League. If you haven't register, you can do so at the Lange Compound on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Glenn sets golf record

With the Western Lakes Conference championships and the regional meets approaching, the Rockets look ready for the challenge.

In their last two outings, two Glenn school records fell.

Led by Chris Tompkins, considered one of the premier prep golfers in the state of Michigan this year, and Duane Stott, the Rockets buried Northville 195-211 in a conference dual meet.

Tompkins shot a par 36 for nine holes to walk away with medalist honors. His team-mate, Stott, was one stroke back. Richard Sudak, a freshman, checked in with a 40, while Brian Reed and Justin Fenelet carded identical 41s.

The 195 score stood up as a Glenn record only until the Rockets' next outing. They shaved one-stroke off that mark against Plymouth-Canton in a 194-211 triumph over the Chiefs.

The victory boosted the Rockets' record on the season to 4-3.

Tompkins again led the pack with a 38, and Reed was a stroke behind.

Vira McGrane, who finished first with her husband, Barney, in the mixed doubles at last weekend's alcohol free golf outing sponsored by the Community United Methodist Church's Men's Club, was shocked hours later to be named the second winner of the annual Charlie W. Lau Memorial Golf Award.

The award was set up last year in honor of the late Mr. Lau, a devoted Christian and golfer. It is given each year to the golfer who expresses in word and action top Christian ideals both on and off the golf links.

The golf outing was conducted at Shady Hollow Golf Course in Romulus and was followed by a luncheon at the nearby Community United Methodist Church.

Other top winners included: Jean Brown and Sonny Wilson, second in the mixed division; Merle and Fred Kelly, first in the men's division; and LeRoy Burcroff and Pat Kotch, second in the men's division; Mary Laverack and Nancy Schon-scheck, first in the women's division; and Mary Oakley and Lois Smythe, second in the women's division.

Charlie Lau

Fred Kelly recorded the longest men's drive and Schon-scheck had the longest women's drive. Jim Thompson had the closet to the pin for the men and Lois Smythe had the closet to the pin for the women.

A total of 34 golfers competed in the third annual golf outing

Romulus Wesleyan Church attracts 400 youth to roller hockey event

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Approximately 400 youth and adults turned out at its roller hockey "Shoot for the Goal" event sponsored by the Romulus Wesleyan Church during the recent Pumpkin Festival.

Pastor Steve Adams said his church members were excited and felt blessed by the large turnout that witnessed 75 youth taking part in 27 separate hockey matches in the nearby Mary Ann Banks Memorial Park.

Winners were presented with medals and "Shoot for the Goal" t-shirts, Adams revealed.

Adams and his team of church leaders and volunteers are hoping the event will now become an annual event. Other church leaders included Gary Lafevre, Pat Lawrence, Tracy Chamberlain and Mary Carr.

The church congregation is now planning an alternative Halloween party for area youth on Oct. 31.

Adams urged that children ages 2 to 15 show up in Halloween costumes between the hours of 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Church leaders - including Lafevre and Wendy Adams - will present a puppet show, clowns, children's games and candy at the park, or if weather creates limitations the party will be held inside the church.

The Mighty Voices of Thunder will perform at 4 p.m. this Sunday at the Smith Chapel A.M.E. Church at 3505 Walnut St. in Inkster.

The musical group directed by Ioda Williams is being presented by the church's Senior Usher Board.

The Rev. David R. Jarrett Sr. said tickets cost $6 for adults and $3 for children.

For more information call the church office -- 313-561-2837.

Salvation Army relief workers are responding to areas of Puerto Rico and southern states this week following the flooding and devastation caused by Hurricane Georges.

S.A. emergency teams responded quickly to the power outages and various styles of damage in the U.S. Virgin Islands, Antigua, the Dominican Republic and Haiti, prior to Georges' invasion of Dixie states of Florida, Alabama and Louisiana.

Persons wishing to contribute to the Army's efforts should mail their checks to their closest Salvation Army Corps Office in Westland, Plymouth or Dearborn Heights and designate the funds be used for hurricane relief.

The Salvation Army Citadel on Warren road in Dearborn Heights is setting up its annual youth activities for youth regardless of church affiliation.

Three such programs are slated for Thursday nights, namely the Sunbeams for girls grades one to five; Girl Guards for those in grades six through 12 and the Adventure Corps for boys, grades one through five.

For more information call 313-563-4457.

The Westland Free Methodist Church's young teens will be sponsoring a community garage sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Oct. 3. The church is located at 1421 Venoy road (between Palmer and Cherryhill).

Proceeds will be used to aid the church's youth programs.

For more information call Tammy Balzer at 734-595-4163.

A debate on the doctor assisted suicide ballot issue is slated for 2:30 p.m. Oct. 10 at the Central United Methodist Church of Detroit.

The debate participants, Dr. Edward C. Pierce, former mayor of Ann Arbor and state senator, and Dr. John Finn, executive medical director of the Hospice of Michigan, will present opposing sides on the assisted suicide issue.

Pierce also is founder and president of Merian's Friends, who worked successfully in getting the issue on the Michigan ballot this fall.

Ten workshops will be available also. The church is located on Woodward at Grand Circus Park.

Gloria Gailther, wife of Christian songwriter Bill Gailther, will be the keynote speaker at the 11th annual Downriver Community Prayer Breakfast on Nov. 19 at the Crystal Gardens of Southgate.

Gailther, who also has written 600 songs, recorded over 60 albums and authored over a dozen books, will speak approximately about 8 a.m.

The breakfast will begin at 7 a.m. and the program is expected to conclude about 9:30 a.m.

Tickets cost $9 per person and checks should be made out to the "Downriver Community Prayer Breakfast." Deadline is Oct. 30. Send requests to Bovitz and Co., C.P.A., P.C. 1651 Kingsway Ct., P.O. Box 445, Trenton, MI. 48183.

The Second Annual Romulus City-Wide Drug-Free New Year's Eve Lock-in at Romulus High School is again being planned by the Romulus Pastors' Association.

The Rev. Steve Adams of the Romulus Wesleyan Church and the Rev. Neil Swanger of the Ball Road Tabernacle Church are coordinating the effort this year.

The first "lock-in" was successfully conducted last December providing local youth with many holiday hours of alcohol/drug-free entertainment and activities.

Music and basketball playing were some of the highlights of the 1997 "lock-in" that also featured plenty of cold drinks and scores of hot pizza.

Nissan King Cab rated best

By VIC BERSTEIN
MCN Staff Writer

This vehicle was rated for the 1999 model year as Best Compact Pickup in Initial Quality by J.D. Power and Associates. This vehicle is being produced at the Modern and award Winning Smyrna, Tennessee plant. So lets see what it has to offer.

Power. This vehicle is powered by a responsive 3.3 liter SOHC 16 Valve (170 HP @ 4800 Rpm's) V6 multi port electronic fuel injected gas engine. The block is cast iron with aluminum heads. I found it to be very adequately powered both in town and on the Highway. This vehicle is rated to tow 5000 lb.

Drivetrain. This model was equipped with a well performing 4 speed automatic transmission with overdrive and Part time 2 speed 4X4 that delivers very adequate power in a smooth and quiet manor. The maximum tow rating is for 5000 LB, and unlike other compact pickups I have tested, it does have the power to tow with passengers and cargo on board. If you need more towing capacity, you need to be looking at a larger and more powerful truck. This is a strong compact pickup truck.

Handling. Equipped with power assist forward disk and aft drum brakes, power assisted steering, 3 channel and 4 sensor rear anti-lock brakes. It has good stopping power. Steering is power assisted recirculating ball rated at 17.6 and tested at 39 feet. Suspension is good. The front suspension is a double wishbone with stabilizing bar. The rear suspension is solid axle with leaf spring suspension. I found the ride to be pleasant, enjoyable, and very responsive.

Gas Mileage. It is rated as 15 MPG city and 19 MPG Highway and estimated annual fuel cost of $1,014. The recommended fuel is unleaded regular. I used the truck for a week and was averaged in the middle of these ranges. This model comes with a 19.4 US gallon capacity.

Safety. The Frontier has the standard 2nd generation dual airbags with a passenger side on/off switch. The passengers are protected by steel pipe side door panel protectors, energy absorbing steering wheel and front crumple zones. The seat belts are comfortable and visibility is very good. Together with the handling and power attributes, I believe this to be a product dedicated to safety. I am not an advocate of the aft jump seats as I do not feel these to be safe. A compact pickup is not a "family car," but in a pinch I would use the jumpseats.

As always with my demo, I was not allowed the privilege of crash testing. This vehicle has Driver and Passenger airbags, steel side door protection beams, an energy absorbing steering wheel, comfortable seat belts, front and rear head rests. While driving I felt comfortable that the vehicle was responsive and that it had no major blind spots.

The Dashboard Instrumentation. My demo has the usual basics and the design was driver friendly. The dashboard instrumentation was both functional and attractive. Specifically, the Frontier is equipped with a speedometer, Tach, LCD odometer, and digital clock on the audio display.

Comfort. As the driver I would give this vehicle high marks for comfort. I loved the storage capacity of the back seat extended cab. I would not recommend putting passengers in the back, while it has two side facing jumpseats. There was more than ample room to store tools, transport groceries, and other items that typically in other non extended cab pickup trucks must ride in the passenger seating area. In regards to getting in and out, leg room, I was very pleased. The climate control was wonderful and the sound system was very good. My demo had the premium audio with CD and cassette, five speakers, and 100 watts of power with a DOLBY noise reduction system. I would give this truck good grades in this area.

Other Miscellaneous Amenities. I loved the style and aesthetics of this vehicle. The solid Platinum paint job has a wonderful look and the body style is rich. The interior had a tough, and very attractive cloth interior. It had cruise control and power windows and remote door locking, power side view mirrors and tinted windows. The vehicle had a manual sunroof, the bed had a over the rail bedliner. With the easy to use 4WD, it was packed full of amenities.

The bottom line. I loved my time with this truck and it was hard to give up the keys. I like to buy American and I like to tell my friends to buy American. This built in the US import is a good product, and I like it. I honestly could not find anything negative to say about this vehicles. The suggested list price tag on this model was $24,017 which is what one expects to pay for a compact pickup truck of this caliber. This product has more amenities then some of the American 1998 models we tested. If your in the market for a new pick up, I suggest you consider this product. And pet owners, this vehicle got the big paws up from my K9 test associate, Simba. I have to say it again, I liked this truck.
